Bunnykins

Created in 1934, Bunnykins by Royal Doulton has become a globally recognised brand and a worldwide success. To celebrate the 75th Anniversary Royal Doulton has produced a nostalgic new range of Bunnykins figures and nursery ware. The 75th Anniversary range is styled upon the very first Bunnykins figures that were ever produced in 1939.

Mother Bunnykins

The charming and nostalgic Bunnykins 75th Anniversary family figurines represent strong family values and relationships. Using classics Bunnykins decoration, and priced at £100 these classical figurines are a welcome addition to any collection. Each figure is produced in a worldwide limited edition of just 500, and bears the prestigious Bunnykins 75th Anniversary back stamp and comes complete with a numbered certificate.

The covetable Bunnykins of the Year for 2009, the Huntsman, is based and styled upon the first ever Bunnykins of the Year. A delightful and highly collectable figurine designed by renowned modeller Shane Ridge, Huntsman Bunnykins, is adorned with a burnt red cloak and top hat. Huntsman Bunnykins is presented with a time-limited certificate and bears the Bunnykins 75th anniversary back stamp.

Huntsman

Beautifully designed by Neil Faulkner, “My First Bunnykins” is a nostalgic and charming figure. The time limited figurine is inspired by archive pieces, priced at £40.00 this delightful piece is the perfect gift for any occasion.

Originally designed in 1954 and 1982 respectively, “Christmas Tree” and “Happy Birthday” have been recreated using the original pieces as inspiration. These two striking tableaux epitomise The Bunnykins family in a charming and reflective manner. Designed by Caroline Dadd, these exclusive figurines are produced in a worldwide limited edition of just 250. Displaying the 75th anniversary back stamp, each figurine is individually gift boxed and comes complete with a numbered certificate.
